Voice

Andante

Sha-dows fall and hope has fled steel your heart the dawn will come the night is long and the path is dark look to the sky for one day soon the dawn will come the shep-herd's lost and his home is far keep to the stars the dawn will come the night is long and the path is dark look to the sky for one day soon the dawn will come Bare your blade and raise it high Stand your ground the dawn will come The night is long and the path is dark Look to the sky For one day soon the dawn will come
